

TRAINING POLICY STATEMENT

Westgold Resources Limited (“Westgold”) is committed to active, regular and appropriate training of employees at its workplaces. Westgold encourages and provides self-advancement programs to ensure the high standards of health, safety, efficiency and productivity are achieved by its employees.

Westgold expects its management to strive to achieve these policy outcomes by ensuring work related training programs are given high priority in all company plans and operating procedures.

In a broad objective, Westgold attempts to align its training policies with those of National Standards and Competency.

Our overall policy objectives are to:

- Ensure all employees are properly skilled and trained in any task they are asked to perform.
- Support employees who on their own initiative undertake and successfully complete accredited work

To assist in achieving these objectives we will:

Demonstrate Leadership: Each manager and supervisor is responsible for working with employees in the identification and implementation of employee development requirements.

Empower our People: Take shared responsibility for their own individual effectiveness, personal and career development.

Take Personal Responsibility: Participate in training opportunities.
